

HAND EVALUATION

Draw a hand on a flipchart paper and put it in a visible place. Each finger is linked to an aspect to be evaluated.

Divide participants in small groups and ask them to reflect on the activities done.

Ask participants to write down their thoughts and mood of the day.

If necessary, you can discuss some topics with participants the morning after. We suggest you do that if participants pointed out specific difficulties.